

Argentine TANGO with

Homer & Cristina Ladas

Homer and Cristina, married since 2002, started their tango obsession long before they met each other. With over 11 years of experience, their 'one tango' philosophy is a fusion of social tango ideologies. They create a positive class environment and try to reduce barriers that inhibit students. Student epiphanies are common in their classes.

Few dancing couples improvise with the skill, personality, and fluidity of movement of Homer and Cristina.

Homer is a founding member of the non-profit Project Tango organization whose projects include the weekly CELLspace alternative milonga and the annual Tango Exchange in San Francisco. Homer's newest interest is the double bass! He plays with a 'student' tango band called Los Bandacticos.

Cristina is currently recovering from a life altering kidney disease and, beyond her regular 'tango functions', is a student of Yoga and Pilates and spends her off-time reading.
